KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Dinkar Jain

Facebook

Director of Product Management and Head of Machine Learning

Dinkar manages a team of ~40 PMs and ~450 engineers focused on using state of the art technologies in artificial intelligence and personalization to deliver better ads to Facebook's 2B+ users. He holds an MBA from Harvard Business School and a BSE from the University of Michigan. He also attended the University of Iowa writer's workshop. In his free time he teaches at Menlo College and volunteers with the National Park Service.

At the Haas Summit, Dinkar will be speaking on the topic of Management in the Age of AI. As all innovators like us look ahead to managing teams and businesses that rely more and more on artificial intelligence and machine learning, many practices and frameworks of sound management need to be rethought. This keynote will highlight how all aspects of management: accounting, finance, strategy, leadership, marketing and economics, will likely evolve.

LIVE CASING SESSION

Aron Solberg

Dropbox

Director of Product Management

A lifelong technology enthusiast, Aron Solberg has previously worked in IT & software engineering but these days he focuses on the craft of product management in B2B SaaS. In his current role as a Group Product Manager at Dropbox (in the HelloSign division) he runs a PM team building a best-of-breed eSignature platform to facilitate digital document workflows. When not on the job, he is finalizing his MBA at the Haas school of business at UC Berkeley and enjoying the great Bay Area outdoors by going running, biking, and hiking.
