Who Should Attend

This seminar is designed to be an essential foundation for a wide variety of students interested in:

- Working in financial services (investment banking, consulting, research, asset management, brokerage, sales & trading, insurance, private equity, venture capital, entrepreneurship and start-ups)
- Working in the corporate/strategic development, finance or marketing group of a corporation
- Non-finance roles, but interested in gaining a solid foundation in applied corporate finance

Once registered, you will receive the Zoom information and class details a couple of days before class

Corporate Valuation Overview

The Corporate Valuation workshop, delivered over Zoom, is an interactive virtual experience consisting of instructor-led lecture and self-paced exercises. Just like a live classroom, students will have the chance to ask questions to the instructor and receive support virtually via chat and email. Through practical examples and real-world exercises, the workshop illustrates the fundamentals of popular valuation techniques used by finance practitioners. Topics covered in live Zoom session:

- Overview of valuation methodologies
- Public comparables analysis
- Acquisition comparables analysis
- Discounted cash flow analysis
- Imputing valuation ranges
- Critical valuation concepts (EBITDA, Enterprise value, WACC, accretion/dilution, etc.)

Zoom sessions will be recorded and available to view post-session

Access to TTS Online Courses

Included is access to our online Self-Study courses Financial Statement Analysis and Corporate Valuation that you can review anytime and on any device. You'll also find additional valuation topics:

- Overview of M&A accounting
- Merger consequences
- Leveraged buyout analysis
- DCF modeling
- Life cycle of a transaction

Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this workshop, as it is intended to provide a solid foundation of practical valuation methodologies. However, students possessing prior accounting, financial statement analysis and corporate finance knowledge will benefit more from the content discussed.
